

Ideally this matter should be left to the States: however no FCC ruling should weaken the criteria set forth by any State.

We in the State of Indiana have benefited greatly in the reduced number of unwanted telephone calls.